

PICTURES OF FIGHT

Have Been Sold For the Large Sum of $200,000

Reno, Nev., June 25.—The right to secure a pictorial report of the "battle of the century," will cost close to $200,000. That is an estimate based on the price of their respective shares already agreed upon by Jim Jeffries, Jack Johnson and promoter Tex Rickard. Jack Gleason, Rickard's partner in staging the big fight, is said to be the only one interested in the picture proceeds who has not disposed of his share of the prospective profits. Gleason is expected here today from the coast.

Admitting that his first statement given on Thursday night was premature Tex Rickard Rickard last night definitely announced the sale of his and Jeffries' interests in the pictures for $100,000 cash, that sum having been placed on deposit in a Reno bank pending the fulfillment of a signed contract.

William T. Rock, representing an eastern syndicate, won the contest for their shares with a bid that topped by $15,000 an offer reported made yesterday afternoon by San Franciscans. And, according to Rickard, hardly had he and Jeffries attached their signatures to the agreement drawn up by Rock's attorney, when the Californians rushed in with an offer of $105,000.

Jeffries is to receive two-thirds and Rickard one-third of the $100,000. Tom O'Day of San Francisco is understood to be the leader of the California bidders. O'Day, acting either independently or for a western syndicate, is said to be the man who recently put $50,000 to Johnson's credit in a San Francisco bank as the negro champion's share in the deal.

Both O'Day and Rickard are reported to be hard after Gleason's interest. The battle for the picture rights has been waging for many months. Ever since the day, last December, when Jeffries and Johnson were matched for the big fight, picture men have been busy with attractive offers to both principals and promoters. According to the amended fight articles Jeffries and Johnson are the joint owners of the picture rights and each is bound to turn over to the promoters one-third of the profits each receives therefrom.

With the picture rights split between rival syndicates, as now seems to be the case, it is likely that two sets of films will be made of the big contest.

In order to carry out the terms of their contracts, all Jeffries and Johnson are required to do is to enter the ring here, July 4, and begin fighting. All that Rickard is required to do is to use his best efforts to see that the fighters come together. All other responsibilities devolve upon the picture men.

Refreshed by a good sleep in Nevada's bracing ozone, Jack Johnson rose early this morning keen for his first workout since shifting his training quarters for the ocean shore. After a brisk road jaunt the champion was expected to rest for the remainder of the forenoon as his program called for several stiff boxing bouts later in the day.

A Kaufman will be taken on, according to arrangements, for four rounds, following which the champion intends to try the mettle of a new sparring partner, he brought up yesterday from San Francisco. This is Jack Geyer, a young Denver heavyweight, who is regarded as good training timber for the champion.

Welter Monahan also a recent recruit, likewise slated for a mauling, and, if Jack pines for more after finishing with that trio, Dave Mills and George Cotton will be ready for a slugging bee.

Out at Moana Springs no one cared to make a guess as to what Jim Jeffries would do today. The big fellow, his trainers say, left "grouch" in California, but not his wit and it is just as difficult to forecast his day's training operations here as it was at Ben Lomond.

Tex Rickard said this morning that, according to information he had received from the southern Pacific railroad, and which was reported to the Associated Press last night, he is inclined to believe that no diminution in the fight visitors will result from the change of battleground from San Francisco to Reno. The promoter estimated that the crowd which witnesses the battle will be close to 17,000.

A visitor here from Goldfield says a large delegation from that town and the surrounding mining camp is being organized and will arrive here on July 3.

Many complaints are being made by visitors desirous of inspecting Jack Johnson's training quarters and seeing the champion work because of the inaccessibility of his camp. To reach the roadhouse where Johnson has quarters, it is necessary to secure an automobile or some other conveyance, as it is entirely off the line of the local trolley system and is far out of reasonable walking distance.

Moana Springs, however, is touched almost directly by Reno's street cars, and for that reason Jeffries' camp is expected to draw a much larger number of visitors than Johnson's. This condition of affairs is a source of regret both to Jeffries and Johnson, for Jeffries dislikes above all things to work in public. On the other hand, nothing delights Johnson more than a big crowd and it has come to be regarded as an established peculiarity of the negro champion that he does his best boxing when stimulated by the presence of numerous spectators.

Very little betting on the fight is going on in Reno. The gambling houses are posting odds of 10 to 6 on Jeffries, but no large wagers have been reported at those figures, and it is not regarded as likely that there will be any considerable amounts put up until a day or two before the battle. Tom Corbett, the official betting commissioner, is still in San Francisco and will probably remain there until July 2. It is believed that for the present San Francisco offers a better field for Corbett's activities than Reno.

The train that brought Johnson to Reno yesterday also carried a consignment of light tickets which will be placed on sale here as soon as an office is established in a large hall over one of the town's most frequent temples of chance. Seats also will be sold in San Francisco up to a day or two of the battle.

The work of putting in the new cement platforms at the depot is progressing rapidly. Within a week the new tracks all laid and the platform ready for the erection of the uprisings for the umbrella sheds.

Mrs. Mary Lavender of Chicago Scandalized
by Minister

Chicago, June 25.—Mrs. Mary A. Lavender, who sued the Rev. E. D. Crawford, pastor of the Woodlawn Methodist Episcopal church for $50,000, charging slander, was awarded $4,000 by a jury which returned its verdict in Judge Managan's court today.

Mrs. Lavender charged that Dr. Crawford accused her of various persons of having been unduly intimate with John D. Leek, former pastor of the Woodlawn church, later at the head of the Western Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, but at present a business man.

Dr. Crawford alleged that Mrs. Lavender had confessed to him and that his talk concerning the case was due to a desire to preserve the honor of the church.

A ROMANCE AND MONEY

Idaho Woman Receives
Millions From Her
First Love

Spokane, Wash., June 25.—Mrs. Dolby Baker of Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, is stated to be heiress to $7,000,000. Twenty years ago she said goodbye to her girlhood sweetheart, Arthur B. Travers, in Montana, and he journeyed to Australia. The girl grew tired of waiting, and married Judge W. J. Groat, later divorcing him and marrying Baker. Now word comes that Travers became a cattle king in Australia, cleared up $7,000,000 and died leaving all to his beloved sweetheart. Attorney R. E. Fry more has gone to Australia, carrying proof of Mrs. Baker's identity, to claim the fortune for her.

SHE WILL SEE THE BIG FIGHT

Chicago, June 25.—Mrs. Rex E. Beach, who left for Reno, Nevada, last night in company with her husband, Rex E. Beach, the novelist and author, declared that she would attend the Jeffries-Johnson fight, July 4.

"I saw Mrs. Rex Rickard in New York this spring," she told me that "I was not game to come," said the author's wife. "Well, she will find out that she has made a mistake. Mr. Beach thinks he is going to send me to Lake Tahoe, but he is mistaken, for I shall see everything there is to see."

BABY FELL BUT WAS NOT INJURED

St. Paul, Minn., June 25.—As Marcel Mohr, one and one-half years old, was sitting on a third-story window sill last night, eating a piece of cake, her mother saw her suddenly pitch backwards and disappear into the street below. The mother rushed downstairs expecting to find her less than a minute later, but she found the little one sitting on the ground and asking, "Mamma, where's my cake?" The baby was only slightly bruised.

THREATS OF CIVIL WAR IN SPAIN

Madrid, June 25.—Premier Canalejas declared today that if the negotiations between the Spanish government and the Vatican over the revision of the concordat were broken off, Rome would be responsible. He said:

"The full text of the Vatican's reply has not been received yet, but we know from the telegraphic summary that it does not constitute a response to our note, but is confined exclusively to a protest against the imperial decree of June 11 and is, therefore, an invasion of the state's sovereignty, which is not tolerable."

"The church falsely accuses us of an attack on the Catholic religion. We are simply defending the sovereignty of the state."

The premier added that if the Catholics persisted in their threats of a civil war, he would have recourse to the courts.

A dubious element in the situation is the attitude of King Alfonso, on whom great influence is being exercised to cause him to overthrow the Canalejas ministry.

CRAIGHEAD IS A LOSER

Brigham City Farmer
Loses Money and His Prospective Bride

Long Beach, Cal., June 25.—Out of pocket $1,100, and no bride, is what George Craighead, a rancher, aged 55, from Brigham City, Utah, says a matrimonial venture has meant to him.

He came here looking for the bride-to-be, and while making inquiries for her, fell into the hands of confidence men at San Pedro and lost $1,000 on a racing game. He says he advanced the $100 to Miss Emma Harwell. Failing to find her, he returned to his home yesterday.

Following his departure the police located Miss Harwell in a sanitarium and she corroborated the rancher's story as far as it related to her. She said, however, that she expended the money in making a trip to Brigham City, to discuss matrimony with Craighead, but he failed to keep an appointment set for June 4. Then she returned to Long Beach and now, she says, in view of all that has transpired she does not intend to marry him.

THREE KILLED

Murderous Hold-Up in Lynn, Mass.—Two
Bandits Shot

Lynn, Mass., June 25.—Three young men committed double murder in the heart of this city today and carried away a bag containing between $4,000 and $6,000, which they stole from the victims, Thomas A. Landrean, a prominent shoe manufacturer, and Policeman James Carroll. The robbers fled to High Rock, a suburb, where they were surrounded by a large force of police and citizens.

Mr. Landrean had just drawn the weekly payroll of the shoe factory of Welch & Landrean from the Lynn National bank and was walking to his factory with the money in a bag.

Officer Carroll accompanied him and they were holding the bag between them. As they reached a point less than 100 yards from the factory, three young men, described as being between 20 and 25 years old, leaped out from a doorway and ran up behind Landrean and Carroll.

When they were within three feet of the two men, two of the desperadoes opened fire with revolvers. At the same moment the third highwayman seized the bag of money. Landrean fell dead. Carroll also fell, wounded several times. He was rushed to the Lynn hospital but died immediately after his arrival there.

As the highwaymen fled, they caught sight of a horse held by a man in front of the residence of Miss Beattie Baker. One of the desperadoes seized the horse, but, as Miss Baker screamed, he dropped it and ran with the others.

All three then ran through Hood terrace and gained the heights of High Rock. A great crowd was in pursuit by this time. When the officers and citizens reached High Rock, the three men were nowhere in sight, but silver money was found scattered about. The men had evidently dropped all the silver in the bag in order to lighten their load, but had kept the bank notes.

The officers, many of whom had seized automobiles, at once surrounded High Rock. Mr. Landrean was about 42 years of age and had a family. The firm of Welch & Landrean, of which he was a member, employed nearly 1,000 persons.

A little less than one hour after the shooting of Landrean and Carroll, Patrolman Thompson saw one of the robbers on Granite street opposite the bank. Thompson, after ordering the man to surrender, opened and the man returned the shots. The robber fell, fatally wounded. Before he expired he said his name was B. Anson, of East Twenty-second street, New York city.

In the meantime, another of the men had been seen in Boston street, near the Lynn hospital. Policeman Grady fired several shots at the robber, who returned the fire. One of Grady's bullets struck the man below the waist. The bandit's wound is serious. His name has not been learned.

The third of the trio was captured without a fight on Western avenue, a short distance from where the second highwayman was shot. A search of the robber's clothing resulted in the recovery of more than $4,500.

MADRIZ ANSWERS THE AMERICANS

Washington, June 25.—President Madriz of Nicaragua has issued an attack upon the attitude of the United States toward the Madriz government in Nicaragua. It was by way of rejoinder to the statement which American Consul Olivares, at Managua, delivered to the Madriz government on instructions from the state department. The statement was an answer to the charges that the United States has violated the neutrality laws during the strife and had caused the war to be prolonged.

Just what the rejoinder of Madriz contains is not known in Washington. Consul Olivares said it contained nothing that justified it to be sent by telegraph. It is said to contain criticism of the handling of the military forces at Bluefields. The consul added that Madriz and his minister, General, Baca, were making efforts to arouse the people of Nicaragua against the United States. He also said it was reported that there was a revolutionary movement at Acayapa and that troops were being dispatched to defend the town.

MISUNDERSTANDING AS TO RAILROAD RATES CONFERENCE

Chicago, June 25.—A controversy has arisen, it is said, between the railroads and the shippers regarding changes in the official classification that governs freight in the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river. The shippers are making the claim that the agreement between the railroad presidents and President Taft with regard to increased freight rates included all increases. The railroad men insist that classification matters were not included and should not be. The shippers insist that changes in classifications are often the medium of increasing the transportation charges, and that those matters should also be submitted to the Interstate Commerce commission.

BRAVE FIGHT OF A GIRL

Italian Attempts to Make an Assault on Minnie Brown

Yonkers, N. Y., June 25.—Miss Minnie Brown, a fifteen-year-old high school girl with an enviable record in school athletics, is in a Yonkers hospital suffering from shock and serious injuries received late last night, when she was attacked near her home by an unidentified Italian and thrown over a cliff into the Hudson river after a fight against her assailant. The police today are scouring the outlying districts in search for the man.

Miss Brown, who is the daughter of a wealthy New Yorker, was the hostess last evening at a party given to a number of her schoolmates.

When the party was over, she accompanied several of her guests to their street car, two blocks away. On her return down the lonely Hudson river boulevard, she was halted by a slouching Italian. He grasped her by the arm, quickly tying a heavy handkerchief over her mouth and started dragging her toward a dark place. The girl struggled with all her might and the Italian then drew a knife, cutting her slightly to enforce his threats. At this she stepped back slightly and picked up a stone and hit the Italian in the face. Infuriated, he clutched her madly, picked her up in both arms and pitched her into the river below. Police heard her scream and rushed away and ran to the scene. She was pulled out of the water and taken to the hospital, apparently in a critical condition, but this morning the hospital physicians expressed the opinion that she would recover.

FINANCIAL PROSPECTS

Market Influenced During the Week by Conflicting Forces

New York, June 25.—Influence in the week's stock market has been divided between the anxiety over the threatened damage to the spring wheat crop and distaste for Attorney General Wickesham's Chicago address, and the encouragement felt over the improvement in various other directions. Confidence has been cultivated by assurances of the foremost banking authority that difficulties in the way of railroad rate advances would be removed by the assent of great shipping interests to the advances.

The money prospect has been cleared by the sale of additional railroad bonds abroad, by the decisive relaxation in the London money market and by the placing of American bankers' finance bills in that market. The forthcoming bank reports, in response to the expected call of the comptroller, are expected to show a correction of the undue credit expansion of the last report.

SAVED FROM DEATH ON THE DESERT

San Bernardino, Cal., June 25.—The heroic tramp mining engineer, J. L. Ames, over twenty-two miles of burning desert, facing a blistering wind all the way, sent succor rushing to six stricken comrades who had been overcome and saved them from a horrible death. Ames arrived at Camp Salstack, ten miles from Seale's Lake, late yesterday afternoon, with his feet bound in sackcloth and a screen of burian over his mouth. The party of seven had set out from Kramer, Tuesday, to survey some old lands. They completed the survey Thursday evening and, while endeavoring to find their way back to their automobile, 645A, six miles distant, became bewildered. When the party went in the direction of the city yesterday on his way to Reno, he had wandered away delirious. He was run down after quite a chase.

New York, June 25.—"Bat" Masterson, who gained a reputation in the early days as a gun fighter and later served as United States marshal under President Roosevelt, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Reno to witness the big fight.

According to "Bat," it is going to be a big fight, but he can't see anything but Jeffries from the first gong. He says he has seen the Californian in all his important battles, and that he is so imbued with the ability of the boxer that he has decided to see how Johnson has a chance to win.

FIGHT FANS ON SPECIAL CARS

Chicago, June 25.—Word has been received that there will be five special cars for the big fight at Reno leaving New York next Monday to make up one of the sections of the special which will start from here on Tuesday night. In addition to the crowd from New York, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee and other towns will contribute good-sized delegations.
